

Cardiopulmonary Program

Care for the Patient, Support for the Family

A Specialty Program for Managing Serious Heart and Lung Conditions

If your loved one is suffering from the late stages of heart disease or lung conditions, you are far from alone and you need specialized hospice care. That's where we come in.

We provide specialized clinicians who truly understand the unique symptoms that patients and their families face, and we work together for the comfort of the patient and techniques for symptom management at home so you can avoid unnecessary trips to the hospital.

Better Care Starts Here

Our Cardiopulmonary Program services include care expertise from clinicians with disease-specific training. We provide cardiac- and pulmonary-focused assessments that are included in each patient-centered plan of care. This plan of care is monitored by an interdisciplinary team including the attending physician, the hospice medical director, and YOU - the patient and family.

Here When You Need Us

We are the largest home health and hospice provider in the nation. As an established leader, we can provide more resources, family support, and specialized care to patients who suffer from late-stage heart and lung conditions. Our focus is on clinical excellence with compassion and dignity, and we understand that hospice is one of the hardest choices you will ever make.

Specialized Patient and Family Education

- Disease process and progression of heart failure and COPD
- Medication and symptom management
- Energy conservation techniques
- Proper use of medical equipment
- Implanted defibrillator management
- Effects of dietary choices

Quality of Life Assessments (Included in the Plan of Care)

- Management of chest pain and shortness of breath
- Management in the home of acute exacerbations
- Assistance with activities of daily living (bathing, grooming, dressing)
- Interventions for anxiety and/or depression

Brand

000 Address
City, ST 00000 000.000.0000

